That wonderful Taper production of "Pippin" last winter and, of course, the eternally running "Wicked" have thrust Stephen Schwartz back into our consciousness again. Here's something that should make the veteran songwriter's fans salivate: a taste of his newest creations starring some big Broadway names.

"Stephen Schwartz: Making Good" will feature the West Coast premiere of songs from his new opera, "Seance on a Wet Afternoon!" The evening will feature Terrence Mann, Tracie Thomas, Valarie Pettiford and others. It's one night only — Aug. 23 at 7:30 p.m. — at the John Anson Ford Theatre in Los Angeles.
